WILLIAMSTOWN

Jean Clogston Died Yesterday at Camp Devens.

A telegram was received here yesterday bringing the news of the death of Jean Clogston at the base hospital at Camp Devens, Mass., which occurred yesterday forenoon, following an illness of pneumonia. His father and mother went to the home of their daughter, Mrs. J. C. Reynolds at Belmont, Mass., last week Wednesday on receipt of the news of his illness. It has been known from the first that the case was serious, but hopes of recovery were held out until the last.

Mr. Clogston's people are expected home to-day or to-morrow.

Miss Kathleen Gilfeather, a teacher in the city schools, left the city yesterday afternoon for West Rutland, where she expects to spend a few days at her home.

The funeral of Armando Crisp, a native of Spain, who died Sunday morning at the age of 24, was held at the home of A. Villa, 26 Berlin street, Tuesday afternoon. A number of the deceased's countrymen escorted the body to Hope cemetery, where interment was made.

A quantity of oranges and lemons, practically essential in the sick room, have been accumulated at city hall through the efforts of the city council. Afflicted families and others who are ill are entitled to two lemons and two oranges each, and may have this supply by sending for them. In especially urgent cases, the fruit will be distributed by the committee. The suggestion that oranges and lemons be supplied came from a citizen who has been very active in assisting the sick.

Three prominent members of the Granite Manufacturers' association are the guests detained at home by the grip. George Straton of Washington street is absent from his manufacturing plant for the first time in 20 years, although his condition is not considered serious. Alexander Duncan of East street, a member of the North Barre Granite Co., is quite gravely ill, and B. Lucchina of Cottage street, a member of the same concern, is critically ill at his home. See. H. P. Hinman of Orange street was a sojourner at the association offices for a short time yesterday, although he has not fully recovered and may be detained at home for a few days longer.

The funeral of Mrs. W. C. Eastman, whose death occurred Monday night, was held from her home in upper Grantville yesterday afternoon at 1 o'clock. Rev. Mr. Peterson of the Baptist church officiating. Interment was in the family lot in the Washington cemetery. The bearers were Worthen Button, a brother, Eugene Eastman, Herbert Simpson, and Scott Eastman. The house was filled with relatives and friends, and the floral tributes were as follows: Roses, husband; roses, Worthen Button, Dr. and Mrs. Bailey; carnations, Dr. and Mrs. Dennis Donahue, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Miles, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Brady, Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Hyland, Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Cutler, and Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Palmer.

A message received this forenoon by William J. Gilbertson notified local relatives of the death of Mrs. Hannah P. (Gilbertson) Palmer, wife of James P. Palmer, which occurred in Quincy, Mass., this morning at 5:30 o'clock, after a short illness of the grip. The deceased, with her husband, left Barre for Quincy only two weeks ago. Besides her husband, and the brother already mentioned, she is survived by her mother, Mrs. Abbie Gilbertson of the Morse block, two sisters living in Massachusetts, and two other brothers, David M. Gilbertson of Barre and Joseph Gilbertson, who is employed in Springfield, Mass. Mrs. Palmer was 28 years old and had lived in Barre for some time. She was a member of the Odd Ladies' lodge of this city.

John Norton, of Payston, self-confessed automobile thief, is a prisoner at police headquarters awaiting a sentence to be imposed later this afternoon by Magistrate H. W. Scott in municipal court. Norton arrived in the city yesterday, accompanied by Deputy Sheriff G. C. Grandfield of Payston, who had been trailing him since early Tuesday, or soon after the car, a Ford auto, was stolen from the home of a man whose home is in the town of Duxbury. While Deputy Grandfield was hot on the trail, Deputy Farr of Waitsfield remained at the Vermont end of the wire and kept the thief chaser informed of local developments. Twenty hours after the theft, Norton was under arrest in Massachusetts, after Mr. Grandfield had located the man in Northampton, Mass., to whom he is said to have sold the car. State's Atty. Earl R. Davis is in charge of the case. Norton was arraigned before the magistrate last night, at which time he pleaded guilty, but sentence was postponed, pending a further investigation.

EIGHT DEATHS IN MONTPELIER

Alderman P. H. Ryan Was One of Those Who Were Victims of the Epidemic, Starting with the Grip.

Eight deaths occurred in Montpelier during the night, including Alderman P. H. Ryan, who had grip and then pneumonia.

Alderman Patrick H. Ryan, one of the best known men in Montpelier, died at his home during Wednesday night, after a few days' illness of grip followed by pneumonia. From the first his illness had been critical. He was born in Waterbury May 6, 1868, a son of John and Bridget Ryan. He attended the district schools and then was graduated from the Green Mountain academy and at the age of 21 years came to Montpelier and had been employed in the Lane Manufacturing Co. plant since that time, excepting two years when he was administrator of the estate of William, his brother, in Bolton, where he lived while closing up the lumber business, and for two years he was identified with the Capital garage in Montpelier.

He was married in 1902 to Nora McGee of Montpelier, and to them five children were born, of whom four, with Mrs. Ryan, survive. The children are: Stanley, aged 16, Robert, aged 15, Katherine, aged 12, and William, aged five. He also leaves several brothers and sisters.

He was a charter member of the Knights of Columbus in Montpelier and a long-time member of company H, 1st Vermont regiment. At the outbreak of the Spanish-American war he was second lieutenant of the company, but was unable to go South with the regiment. He was a member of the N. E. O. P. and was always interested in public life, having been three terms an alderman, the first man in the city to break the two-term precedent without opposition, having for the third time been elected last spring. The funeral will occur Saturday morning.

Artemas Lawrence, aged 70 years, died at the home of Louis Lawrence, his son, during Wednesday night after a short illness of grip and complications. He was a native of Berlin and was among the last of a family of 13 children, eight boys and five girls. He was a successful farmer in Berlin street during the night of the epidemic. He was married to Sarah Maxham, his wife, died about 25 years ago. He is survived by one son, Louis, and a daughter, Miss Ada Lawrence, and by a brother, Leonard, living in Montpelier, and a brother, Warren, living in Barre.

D. M. Valz, aged 38 years, died at his home on Berlin street during the night of the epidemic. He came to this country when a small boy and was married a few years since to Miss Antonia Prario, who, with two children, Nildo and Romeo, survives the deceased in his own family. He also leaves a brother, John, in Quincy, Mass., and a sister in Fitzwilliam, N. H., to which place the body will be taken for the funeral.

Charles Bombard, whose brother died in Barre Wednesday, died at his home in Montpelier Wednesday afternoon, after a few days' illness with grip, followed by pneumonia. He was a native of Keesville, N. Y., a son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bombard. He was married four years ago to Miss Helen Doherty, and to them were born two children, aged three and 12 months, respectively. They with their mother survive the deceased. He also leaves his parents, living in Barre, and brothers and sisters. He was employed as a machinist in the Lane company plant for two years.

Herbert D. O'Neill, who for years had been a freeman in the Montpelier & Wells River railroad, died about 1 o'clock this morning. He was a native of Montpelier, born Oct. 21, 1894, a son of Mrs. Kate (O'Neill) Holleran. He attended St. Michael's school and when a youth commenced work in the Emalee greenhouse, which work he followed until he went to the railroad, where he had since been employed. He was a member of the Knights of Columbus, the railroad firemen's and engineers' organization, and was generally popular among his associates. He leaves a mother and three brothers, John, Vincent and Michael, two of whom are ill in the same house. The funeral will take place Saturday morning.

Antonio Franceschi, age 38 years, died at his home on Silver street at about 9 o'clock last evening, following a short illness of grip, followed by pneumonia. He came to this country when young and had lived in Montpelier many years, having bought a nice house on Sibley avenue. He leaves a wife and one daughter, about eight years of age. His brother died a year ago. He was a carrier and was employed by the G. R. Bianchi Granite company.

Labano Ghilano, aged 30 years, died at an early hour this morning at his home on Sibley avenue, after a few days' illness of grip and complications. He was born Feb. 2, 1888, in Italy, and came to this country when a young man, having resided in the family of G. R. Bianchi since he came to Montpelier.

He was a stonecutter and was employed by the Bianchi company. He leaves his parents, living in Italy, and as far as is known he has no relatives here. The funeral will take place at 10 o'clock Friday morning.

Fausto Acebo, aged 26 years, died at the home of friends on Barre street at about 8 o'clock this morning, following a few days' illness of grip and double pneumonia. He was a native of Spain and had lived in Montpelier about seven years. He was living alone in the Prario block when taken ill, but friends moved him to their home that he might have care. He was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Quentin Acebo and has relatives living in Spain. He is a member of the Spanish club at Montpelier.

Raymond Goodno, who had in recent years been a truckman in Montpelier, died at his home Wednesday afternoon of grip followed by pneumonia. He was born 31 years ago last August, a son of Mr. and Mrs. William Goodno. Seven years ago he was married to Miss Mary Lynch, who with three children survives the deceased. He also leaves his parents and several brothers and sisters.

SHORT TIME TO PEACE

Was Official Bulgarian Statement After Armistice.

Sofia, Monday, Sept. 30. (Via Amsterdam, Oct. 3.)—The Bulgarian government in announcing officially to-day that an armistice had been signed and orders given to suspend military operations, declared it would be only a short time until peace is made. The official statement says:

"At this moment the Bulgarian nation and army are asked, once hostilities have been suspended, to maintain calm and order so that the government may be able to complete the work of peace. Only a short time separates us from the day of definite peace. The nation must allow itself to be guided only by sentiments of ardent love for Bulgaria."

MANY FUNERALS HELD

For Those Who Died During the Epidemic.

The funeral of Private Ronald McMillan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Duncan McMillan of 7 Thurlow place, whose death occurred at Camp Upton, was held at the house Tuesday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. Rev. F. L. Goodspeed, pastor of the Barre Congregational church, officiating. The bearers were: Alderman Duncan J. McMillan, brother of the deceased, Thomas McDonald, Alfred Brew, Alfred McKay, Edward Livendale and Mr. Menard. Interment was made in the family lot at Elmwood cemetery.

At his home in Howes place, the funeral of Charles Duncan was held this forenoon at 11 o'clock. Rev. Edgar Crossland, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, officiating. Masons, members of the Order of Scottish Clansmen, and the Red Men of Hardwick, where the deceased formerly resided, sent messages and floral tokens of sympathy and esteem. The burial took place in Hope cemetery.

Obsequies for Antonio Semprebino of 5½ Second street, whose death Monday evening followed an illness of two days, were held at the house this morning at 9 o'clock, followed by interment in Hope cemetery.

At the mortuary chapel of A. W. Badger & Co. this afternoon at 1 o'clock, funeral services were held over the remains of Francis Gaud, a former resident of Graniteville, whose death occurred in a Boston hospital. Rev. B. G. Linsley of the Hedding Methodist church was the officiating clergyman, and the body was taken to Chelsea for interment in the village cemetery.

Funeral services for Florence Dente, 11-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Basilio Dente of the G. Tomasi building, whose death occurred Sunday evening, were held at the house this afternoon at 2 o'clock. Interment took place in Hope cemetery.

Brief obsequies for Edward Lavigne, a granite cutter, whose death occurred at his home in Williamstown Monday morning, were held to-day at 9 a. m. The body was brought to this city for interment in the Catholic cemetery on Beckley street.

This afternoon at 2 o'clock took place the funeral of Ottavio Granai, a granite manufacturer, who died at his home, 34 Maple avenue. Services at the house were followed by interment in Hope cemetery.

The funeral of Mrs. Eliza Granai of 25 Blackwell street, one of the earlier victims of the epidemic, was held at the house Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock, followed by interment in Hope cemetery.

Funeral services for Edward Jurries, six-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Jurries of 502 North Main street, were held at the house this afternoon at 2 o'clock. Interment took place in Hope cemetery.

A double funeral was held in the Church of the Good Shepherd Wednesday afternoon for Mrs. James McDonald of Hall street and her brother, Gordon Young, both of whom succumbed to the grip. The pastor, Rev. W. J. M. Beattie, was the officiating clergyman, and interment was made in Hope cemetery.

The funeral of Vincenzo Parnigoni was held yesterday afternoon at his late home, 15 Foss street. The bearers were: A. Malnati, G. Molinari, R. Mistrangelo, R. Fontana, G. Ouglati and L. Gloria. Interment was in Hope cemetery. Among the floral tributes were: Wreath, Parnigoni family; wreath, Rossi & Casellini; wreath, Parnigoni Bros.; carnations, B. Lucchina, F. Brogini; carnations and roses, Mr. and Mrs. R. Parnigoni, Joseph Calcagni and family, John Calcagni, A. Parnigoni, Mr. and Mrs. A. Bizzozzeri, F. Bresaniti and J. Parnigoni.

AMERICANS GO AHEAD.

Have Made Longest Advance Southward from Archangel.

Archangel, Tuesday Oct. 1. By the Associated Press.—American troops now hold the farthest point south reached by any of the allied forces in the advance southward from Archangel. This point is a small village thirty-five miles south of Shenskursk on the river Viga. The bolshevik stronghold of Velsk is about 40 miles away.

From the Velsk the bolshevik send out small gunboats from which they land parties to attack the Americans. The bolsheviks, however, always flee to the shelter of the gunboat when attacked.

The inhabitants near the American advanced post are largely of bolshevik sympathies, as those opposed to the bolshevik fled to Shenskursk to the protection of the allied and Russian forces. A party of about one hundred peasants is doing splendid work scouting for the allies.

Thirty-five miles south of Shenskursk would place the Americans in the government of Vologda, Velsk, or Bielek, the bolshevik base, is 200 miles north of the city of Vologda.

S. A. T. C. EXPLAINED.

Only Those 18 Years or Over Are Eligible.

1. After a student has been registered by his local draft board and has entered in the regular way, a college—to be chosen by himself, not the government—may be voluntarily inducted into the students' army training corps. As this is a corps of the army, he will become a soldier at once and be placed on active duty upon his induction. He will receive uniforms (to be worn all the time), equipment, food (army rations), housing (in barracks), and instruction at government expense, and the pay of a private ($30 per month). As he is a soldier he is no longer under the jurisdiction of his draft board, but he is subject to all military orders, and liable to any military duty.

2. All men within the present draft ages (18-45), with the exception of general service men in class 1 registered before Sept. 12, 1918, are eligible to voluntary induction into a collegiate section of the S. A. T. C. They must also be shown by the usual army physical examination, to be held at the college, to be physically fit for general or limited military service, and have had a four years' high school course or its equivalent, and be in attendance at one of the institutions maintaining an S. A. T. C. No general service men in class 1, who registered under the first draft (i. e. before Sept. 12, 1918) are eligible to induction into a collegiate unit of the S. A. T. C., but men already inducted into or called for active service may seek transfer through their commanding officers and the regular military channels. Such transfers, however, will be made only in rare and exceptional cases.

3. Boys under 18 years of age who have been admitted to college, will be given such military training as is possible, but they will not become soldiers and hence will not receive subsistence or pay from the government, until they have become eighteen years of age, have registered with their local board and have been inducted into the S. A. T. C.

4. Boys under eighteen years of age who are in high or preparatory schools should remain in school and intensify their study in order to complete their high school course and fit themselves for entrance to college as soon as possible.

5. Collegiate units of the S. A. T. C. will be established at institutions of approved academic standing enrolling 100 or more able-bodied male college grade students eighteen years of age or over.

6. It is expected that the voluntary inductions into the collegiate units of the S. A. T. C. will take place about Oct. 1. Students must pay their own expenses until inducted into the S. A. T. C.

7. Information concerning the routine of voluntary induction should be obtained from commanding officers of collegiate units of the S. A. T. C.

8. An arrangement is now pending which will provide what a limited number of men may, upon induction, be assigned to the navy, if they so desire.

9. Vocational units of the S. A. T. C., which have been in operation for several months as national army training detachments, will be continued, but few if any, new units will be added at present. Registrants of the new draft ages who have had a grammar school course or its equivalent are eligible for induction into these units. Induction will ordinarily be sought, however, only through the local draft board of the registrant and not through the institution at which the unit is established. Men seeking induction will be sent to vocational units only so far as the requirements of the service permit.

10. As enlistments have been discontinued, it is only by voluntary induction that a registrant may enter any branch of the army. Committee on Education and Special Training (General Staff). Sept. 11, 1918.

Protective Foods.

We have heard much in recent years about two very important "growth promoting substances," called vitamins, which are said to be vitally necessary for our well being. One of these is found in butter fat, milk, egg yolk, the leaves of plants, glandular organs, such as kidneys, liver and sweetbread, in traces in the germs of seeds, muscle tissue, animal fats. The other one is in almost all foods, except boiled rice, starch, sugars and in fats and oils.

It is no more of a problem to get these substances from our food than it is to get plenty of mineral matter in the same way. In fact as far as the second one of these "growth promoting substances" is concerned, there is almost nobody in the United States who does not get it without any special effort on his part.

In order to get plenty of mineral matter and a good supply of the first "growth promoting substance," we need only to remember to eat plenty of milk and milk products, and plenty of the leafy vegetables. These should be considered as protective foods and we should eat some of them every day. They will make good the elements lacking in bread, cereals, potatoes and other tubers and in vegetables such as beets, turnips and radishes.

Drink plenty of milk. Eat all the pure ice cream you want, provided you do not run over your sugar allowance. Use butter and cheese. Make milk soups and milk desserts. Try to include one of the following in your day's meals: Cabbage, cauliflower, Swiss chard, collards, Brussels sprouts, lettuce, celery, spinach or onions.

If you happen to be one of those persons who eats all of the salad but the lettuce leaf mends your ways. For lettuce is one of those leafy vegetables which contain mineral salts absolutely essential to the welfare of the body.

Do not let people tell you that lettuce is not much of a food, because its fuel value is so low. Mineral matter is just as important as "calories."
